Last Chance Patriots in Action

Wow! What a month April has been for Last Chance Patriots. We hosted Shahram Hadian on a short Montana tour visiting Polson, Great Falls and Helena. Ed and Linda met some wonderful people during their whirlwind trip and gained about 200 new subscribers to the Last Chance Patriots Newsletter. More details elsewhere in this newsletter.

In the next couple of months we will be introducing new ways to share our Last Chance Patriots message. We would love to hear from you about how you think we can best work to Save Our State. More importantly, we would like to hear how you would like to help! Can you write Letters to Editors? Can you host a small group in your home to watch a video such as Shahram Hadian's or Dinesh D'Souza's most recent DVDs? Can you help to financially sponsor a speaker to come to Montana? There is so much to be done and there are so many different ways to help that everyone can do SOMETHING!

Meanwhile, we all need to study all the primary candidates and vote for the ones that can best protect Montanans from those who want to destroy America, the ones whom you believe to be the most honest, most trustworthy, and most PATRIOTIC. Now is the time to put into all offices, from County Commissioner seats to Senatorial seats, only those who love their country and its citizens and who will put America and our Constitution first in all deliberations.

Missoula Refugee Update thru April 26, 2018

Missoula welcomed 8 more refugees in April from the Democratic Republic of the Congo. We are working to find out if the International Rescue Committee is closing their office in Missoula. We do know they are closing a couple hundred offices worldwide.

Speaking of refugees, we found out from a local rancher this week some interesting info about a meat packing plant in Alberta. At this particular plant they have heavy security and on shift change they have to keep the Muslims separated from the Christians because of the probability of violence on the Muslims part. And get this, all the knives in the place have to be chained down to the working tables.

Seems to me one heckuva' way to do business. If we do nothing, it is coming to America sooner than everyone thinks.

STEALING (FEDERALIZING) MONTANA and OTHER STATE WATERS ...

Here is an enormous threat to the farm and cattle community coming to Western States. I recently identified ten major legal flaws of a proposed Tribal Water Compact, and identified them as the principle beliefs of Montana Senator Jon Tester. I would also include that these beliefs are supported by Montana Governor Steven Bullock, Attorney General Tim Fox, and a majority of the Montana Legislature. All of these elected officials have completely abandoned the state protections of Montana residents living in eleven counties of Western Montana. Below are the Ten Flaws of the proposed Confederated Salish-Kootenai Tribe (CSKT) Water Compact, with a few supportive examples affirming that the proposed CSKT Water Compact is entirely illegal:

Ten Flaws of the Proposed Confederated Salish-Kootenai Tribe (CSKT) Water Compact

- 1. The U.S. Constitution is Irrelevant: Article IV provides full faith and credit to States, full privileges and immunities of citizens, and no new “states” created within a state. Governor Bullock signed away the First Amendment of Montana citizens, and executed an intentional violation of the Fifth Amendment (takings without compensation). Bullock ignored the power of the State of Montana under the Tenth Amendment, and removed the civil rights protections of Montanans under the Fourteenth Amendment, among other U.S. Constitutional violations.
- 2. The Montana State Constitution is Flexible: The CSKT Water Compact tramples upon Article II and Article IX of the Montana State Constitution by removing the popular sovereignty and inalienable rights of Montana citizens, taking water rights attached to property deeds, and transferring off-reservation Montana waters to federal “trust” for an Indian tribe. Article IX requires “a clean and healthful environment in Montana for present and future generations.” Water is livelihood, or the lack of livelihood on land. Transferring authority over Montana waters to an Indian tribe that has no duty to Montana landowners is abhorrent.

The Federal government is using tribes as willing pawns to federalize the waters of the Western States. The proposed CSKT Water Compact is the model, or pilot project to accomplish this goal.

Unless State elected officials resume their duty to protect State authorities and resources, the federal government and tribes have smooth sailing for dismantling the balance of power between the federal government and states. Water is life on the land.

Tribal financing of elected officials is greasing the skids to get this done on behalf of a continuously overreaching federal government.

3. The CSKT Tribal Constitution is Insignificant. Article VI of the CSKT Constitution declares that the Tribal Council's powers and duties are subject to any limitations imposed by Statutes of the Constitution of the United States. (See U.S. Constitution above). Further, Article VII of the Tribal Constitution provides a Bill of Rights that is substantially violated on behalf of enrolled tribal member landowners and irrigators within the Flathead Reservation, among other Tribal Constitution violations.

4. The U.S. Court Rulings on Water Should Be

Ignored: The Winters Doctrine of 1908 is a fair and just commitment to always provide water for all tribal lands, people and enterprises. The Winters Doctrine excludes off-reservation waters from tribal authority. The 1981 Montana v. U.S. ruling provides that tribal governments have no authority over non-tribal persons or properties, absent a person's consent. The 2013 ruling in Tarrant v. Herrmann unanimously asserted that "States have the absolute authority over all navigable waters within lands ceded to a state upon statehood." These are but a few of the very powerful U.S. Supreme Court rulings utterly ignored by the federal government, State of Montana and CSKT Tribe.

Zinke Visits Browning and Heart Butte to Present Funding for Blackfeet Water Compact

5. Tribal Sovereignty Is Superior to and More Precious than State Sovereignty: Two major tribal privileges have caused elected officials of the State of Montana to elevate tribal sovereignty over State sovereignty: 1) tribal governments directly finance incumbents and candidates. No other American governments may do so. Indian reservations place polling precincts on federal "trust" land, where the Secretary of State has no access or enforcement authority and cannot ensure fair election practices. Elected officials benefitting from these two egregious election conditions (money and questionable tribal votes) are loath to require the Montana Legislature to end these practices. Consequently, Montana elected officials say "Yes" to every tribal whim, even to the direct harm of state sovereignty and the protection of Montana citizens.

STEALING (FEDERALIZING) MONTANA and OTHER STATE WATERS ...

6. The Federal Government, State and Tribe Must Steal Water Rights Attached to Private Property

Deeds: The entire ability to implement the proposed CSKT Water Compact is contingent upon surreptitious and nefarious removal of private water rights, and illegally transferring such rights to the federal government on behalf of a tribe. This is theft. This is absolute unadulterated theft of a water right without compensation, and instrumental to the success of the CSKT Water Compact. Senators Tester and Daines, Governor Bullock and their minions believe that such a travesty is a justified harm to Montana residents.

7. A Montana Senator's Oath of Office Must Prioritize Tribalism: The Federal Government has a "trust" relationship with Indian tribes. States do not unless they intentionally self-impose a State "trust" relationship with Indian tribes. Montana did exactly that a couple of decades ago. See Item 5 above (candidate funding and questionable votes) to fully understand why Montana elected officials either cooperate with tribes or get taken out of office.

8. A Territorial War Power against the State of Montana is the Right Way to Implement a Tribal Water Compact: On Page 2 of the Enrolled Bill (S. 262) passed by the Montana Legislature is the following: "The Secretary of Interior...has authority to execute this Compact...pursuant to 43 U.S.C. 1457..." This statute is a Territorial War Power that may be applied in federal territories, but never against a State. Montana elected officials either naively or intentionally agreed to this travesty. There has been no discussion or action by state officials to protect state sovereign authority specific to this Compact.

9. Montana State Legislature is Subservient to a Senator's Decisions. Montana Legislature's bill, S. 262 was wrapped into and substantially amplified in Senator Tester's Compact Bill, S. 3103, expanding tribal authority over Montana waters and adding multi-millions to the Compact, beyond what the Montana Legislature approved. Tester overruled and exceeded the decisions of the Montana legislature, with no complaint from Montana elected officials.

STEALING (FEDERALIZING) MONTANA and OTHER STATE WATERS ...10. Montana Waters Should Rightfully Be Owned and Managed by the Federal Government:

The proposed CSKT Compact transfers the State's authority over its waters in eleven Western Counties to the federal government, to be held in "trust" for a single Indian tribe. Should this Compact be ratified by Congress, all other Montana Indian tribes will demand the same water benefits as the CSKT tribe. The end result will transfer all Montana waters to the federal government to be managed on behalf of Indian tribes in Montana.

This is, of course, a horror story for the State of Montana, but it gets worse. Should this unique and highly illegal tribal water compact become law, the precedent is set for all tribes in their respective states to roll out the same demands. The Federal government is using tribes as willing pawns to federalize the waters of the Western States. The proposed CSKT Water Compact is the model, or pilot project to accomplish this goal. Unless State elected officials resume their duty to protect State authorities and resources, the federal government and tribes have smooth sailing for dismantling the balance of power between the federal government and states. Water is life on the land. Tribal financing of elected officials is greasing the skids to get this done on behalf of a continuously overreaching federal government.

BOOKS THAT MATTER

In the spring of 2005 a federally orchestrated raid took place at the small Montana town of Garryowen. Christopher Kortlander, the private owner of Garryowen and the focus of the raid, was suspected of selling valuable historical artifacts with false provenance. Kortlander vigorously fought this criminal allegation and eventually revealed a vast conspiracy of government corruption and espionage. He also exposed stunning connections between his raid, the Gibson Guitar raid, and a raid in rural Utah that led to the deaths of multiple people.

Shawna does a great job explaining the fight of Cliven Bundy. The very last rancher in all of Clark County Nevada, whose family has had this land since the 1800's. The Bundy family is the salt of the earth kind of people. Hard working, honest and devoted to their faith, their country and their family. Harry Reid had now ran out 63 Ranchers in Clark County alone. The Federal Government has illegally possessed 85% of all land in Nevada. This book is a good start at bringing some light to the fight these ranchers and farmers are dealing with.

The federal Executive Branch and federal agencies are using 567 tribal governments and Indian reservations in 43 states as launch pads to expand tribal authority over non-tribal citizens. The rapid spread of tribalism is erasing state authority over natural resources, and protections of property rights and citizens. American Taxpayers in metropolitan areas may also be shocked to know the direct impacts upon all Americans, even those living far distant from reservations. This book addresses a bottomless pit of annual trillions of taxpayer dollars keeping tribal families in apartheid and continual poverty.

Slumbering Thunder will give you decision-making tools, model letters, and commentaries about your protections, rights of local governments and states when experiencing federal and tribal government intrusion.

Tidbits from Around the Last Best Place

Big Jon Update: If you haven't seen Senator Tester's new ads, you will. He's doing his best to act tough and imitate President Trump. He's swearing now instead of just lying. Speaking of Big Jon, check out <http://twofacetester.com/> and see just how 'two-faced Big Jon really is.

Lake County Shuts Down Free Speech: We had an interesting time trying to promote our Pastor Hadian event in Lake County. The Valley Journal refused to even place a notice in community events because they deemed it not in keeping with their standards. Editor, Summer Goddard was kind enough to meet personally. It made no difference. In her and her husbands mind we were being mean to Islam in singling them out. Of course the day before we met they had a hit piece in their paper from the Flathead Human Rights Council who launched a preemptive strike for the Left. Then the Lake County Leader said no to community events because we were charging. And the Lake County Library refused to even allow our poster on their bulletin board because we were having a 'religious' event. You can read more about this ordeal in an article elsewhere in this edition.

Missoula County Bullies: Missoula County issued eviction notices to 200 property owners, that is mobile home owners who owe back taxes. Seems pretty cruel in a County where no one can afford to live. If they hadn't hired that Climate Change dude for $75 grand a year they could have forgiven the taxes on the people who can least afford it. But bring in more refugees!

Peoples Republic Update: Last year the city of Missoula passed their own gun laws for residents and Montana's Attorney General shot it down. Now, Mayor Engen, the big spender, is challenging the State of Montana in court. At the same time he refuses to release how much money the city paid a particular law firm for representing them in the takeover of the water company. It's well into the millions. Speaking of Mayor Engen, following his reelection late last year the Missoulian reported 'Mayor Realizes Property Taxes Are Important'. Now there's a quick study. He's been in there for years. They recently reported 'Mayor Says He Should Pay More Attention to Roads'. The street conditions in Missoula are abysmal and make no sense. Yet, the Mayor and City Council are all over Climate Change and Sustainable Development, two United Nations initiatives.

Democratic Cover Up in Helena: The Montana House and Senate last week unilaterally voted to establish a Committee to investigate the millions of dollars the State has paid in confidential legal settlements to employees. In the era of #metoo one would think transparency would be a priority for all lawmakers. According to the Missoulian the "Senate Minority Leader Jon Sesso and House Minority Leader Jenny Eck made the recommendation because they don't believe the panel is legitimate and because they fear the aim is to make Democratic Gov. Steve Bullock look bad". At least they are like their counterparts in Washington ... do as I say, not as I do. Let your Legislators know you want the truth on State government.

Back From Belgium ... and the News is not Good

In 1995 I became a proud 'naturalized' US citizen. My family, however, still lives in Belgium so I visit as often as I can. This time I returned with a sad feeling in my heart. The situation in my birth country is getting worse. And it seems like most of the good Belgian citizens do not realize what is happening to their country.

Here in America, it is very similar. Working with Act for America and now Last Chance Patriots, we keep hearing from 'certain groups in our communities' that we spread anti-muslim bigotry, that we are Islamophobes and racists. Recently, leading up to our recent events we were called white-supremacists and fear mongering conspiratists. And yet, all we do is teach the truth and study what is happening in other countries. Many believe 'it will never happen here' at the very time it IS happening here.

Let me share with you the present situation in Belgium. For the second time in six years the 'Islam' Party will participate in Belgium's municipal elections. The following statements are not mine but Redouane Ahrouch, Belgium's Islam Party leader. "The party wants to create an Islamic State and separate men and women in public transport. Our goal is a 100% Islamic State, but we don't mean we want to oblige the headscarf. By establishing Sharia law we want to follow the way of the prophet and the Quran."

The Islam party clearly focuses on conservative Muslims and already had two members elected in the 2012 elections. This year it will participate in 28 municipalities. Ahrouch says he wants to reach the party's goals "without violating the Belgian constitution". It is unclear how he wants to do this as the Quran clearly states that 'It is the duty of every Muslim to obey the laws of Allah, the Shariah'. Experts say the party could score a big victory because a lot of left-wing parties with Muslim candidates are losing popularity among Moroccan and Turkish voters. The name of the Islam party could also encourage Muslims to vote for it, because of its well-recognized ideas.

In our country, we do not have an Islam Party, yet. But this is by design. And just wait, it is coming to a city near you. They are very patient as they move from the House of War (Dar al Harb) to the House of Islam (Dar al Islam). Once they have over 5% of the population they know that Dar al Islam is achievable and push for the introduction of halal ("clean" by Islamic standards) food, thereby securing food preparation jobs for Muslims. They increase pressure on supermarket chains to feature it on their shelves—along with threats for failure to comply (United States, Switzerland, Sweden). At this point, Muslims work to get the ruling government to allow them to rule themselves under Sharia, or Islamic law. (England, Netherlands, Philippines).

Think it can't happen here? We are at 5% in some US cities now and fast approaching 5% in many others. Montana is not immune. A trip to your local Costco, right here in Montana, should bring the point home. Yes, Costco bowed and complies with halal requirements. The lamb is halal!

Caroline Solomon was born in Gent, Belgium, attended Imelda Institute in Brussels and graduated with a degree in Modern Languages and Business Administration. Throughout her career she worked as an executive secretary at Brasseries Kronenbourg. Following that role she worked at Bristol Myers as an assistant to the vice president for the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance (COMECON) and the nations of Austria and Greece. She married her husband, Harry, a US citizen, in Brussels. They moved to the United States in 1986 and the Flathead Valley in 1993. They have one son.

North Lake County Library Rights a Wrong

Promoting our event The Trojan Horse of Interfaith Dialogue proved to be quite a challenge. As mentioned in Tidbits From the Last Best Place the newspapers of Lake County were less than cooperative. But they are private enterprises and in the end can choose to publish what they want. The surprise was the position the North Lake County Library took on putting up a poster.

When I dropped the poster off for approval I knew by look on the young lady's face that it was not bound for approval. I asked that she call with a decision from the Director. She left me a message later that day telling me it was disapproved. Over the next week and four days of unreturned phone calls the Director's Administrative Assistant got in the conversation and moved things along. She was quite professional and prompt and the dialogue was civil. Just prior to the event and too late for the poster to help, the Director reached out to me via Email.

The first reason we couldn't place a poster in the library was our event was 'religious' and the library policy doesn't support a particular religion. I pointed out that a year or so back the Flathead Reservation Human Rights Network brought in to the library UM Professor Bitar to present on Islam. I also pointed out that suddenly the Flathead Reservation Human Rights Council, with the support of the Montana Human Rights Network, had scheduled a meeting the night after our Polson event to tell people the 'truth' about our extremist organization. After a few Emails, the reason we weren't allowed became that we were charging for our event. The Director informed me that I had a right to appeal her decision to the library Board which I agreed to do.

I'm happy to report that on April 27th the Board met and addressed our appeal. Prior to our meeting the Director had prepared a policy change which the Board approved. The new policy aligns the bulletin board policy with the meeting room policy. Now the bulletin board and the meeting room are for community events and we, as well as others who may have been declined in the past, are permitted to post event announcements on the bulletin board without approval. A victory for free speech!

When you visit the library please thank the Director and if you know any Board members please thank them as well. They were professional, concerned and in the end acted in the best interest of the community. The meeting lasted a couple of hours and we were at the end which gave me time to observe a Board meeting. I saw very passionate people reporting and working on issues for the community.

I believe this is a success story on both sides. Even if the decision had not gone our way, the process would have been a success. I would imagine those in the room for the appeal and those reading this article have very divergent views on the issues facing our State and Nation. Yet, as in days of old, we were able to have a civil dialogue and worth things out. My thanks to the library employees, the Director and the Board for their professionalism and dedication.

Last Chance Patriots and Shahram Hadian Montana Tour

Those who attended Shahram Hadian's presentations on The Trojan Horse of Interfaith Dialogue Between Christians and Muslims were blessed with an understanding of the insidious nature of Islam's effort to deceive Christians into believing that there is anything at all in common between Christianity and Islam. The bare-bones truth is that Islam denies the most fundamental tenets of the Christian faith: the Trinity and Christ's death and resurrection. If you missed the presentation, you can purchase Shahram's DVD on this topic on his website: <http://www.tilproject.com/> Many of the people who attended purchased the DVD so they could watch it again and share with others. And that is a great idea!

Shahram kicked off his tour in Polson on Tuesday, April 17th and many people helped to make it possible. Our security team, led by Chris Amyes and Mark Everton was discreet and awesome. Helen Mangels and Bill Sauer manned the ticket desk and greeted our guests. We had an attendance of 72 with many regulars missing.

The following day Ed and Linda drove to Cut Bank to attend Shahram's presentation there. The Cut Bank Ministerial Association hosted this event and we were fortunate to be able to meet a number of really nice folks who are now interested in Last Chance Patriots. The local police department provided officers and supported the event. There were 80 in attendance.

On Thursday we traveled to Great Falls where Garnett Rope organized a terrific event – standing room only! The Set Free Church, a ministry founded by Bikers, in Great Falls provided a superb venue with a support staff of their Elders and parishioners who made everyone feel welcome and also made sure that everything flowed smoothly, from parking to the sound system! Many thanks to Pastor JT, who'd returned from a trip to Israel the day before, and to all who helped! We had slightly over 200 in attendance.

Finally, on Friday, we hosted Shahram's last event at the Canyon Ferry Road Baptist Church, in East Helena. We received another warm welcome from the church with superb leadership who helped make sure that the event was a success! Our sincere appreciation to Pastor Chad and Youth Pastor Kenton for their support and hospitality. They told us we are welcome any time. They are two fine Christian men whom we are pleased to add to our list of Montana Patriots!

We owe a debt of gratitude to Shahram Hadian for his knowledge, his hard work, his dedication to Christ and his efforts to help everyone understand the truth about Islam. We are blessed to know Shahram and count him as a member of our LCP team! And welcome and thank you to the youngest and newest member of our team, Elias Hadian, Shahram's 10-year old son who is mature beyond his years and a fine young man! At 10 years old he handled his Dad's sales table all by himself, running credit cards, taking checks and making change for cash sales. In East Helena he even sold our tickets at the door while we were busy. Amazing tour, amazing young man!
