Last Chance Patriots in Action

Are we enjoying the sunshine and warm weather yet? If we can stay fire-free this summer, I imagine all of us will cherish these fleeting days of fun and visitors! Last Chance Patriots has been busy putting the finishing touches on our new website (stay tuned for a launch announcement) and making plans for a multi-city program in the Fall. We are not quite ready to announce the speaker but trust us it will be worth waiting for! We are also involved in supporting two "pre-screenings" of Dinesh D'Souza's new movie, Death of a Nation, in Kalispell and Great Falls. We are also supporting a workshop coming in October hosted by This West is OUR West. The day-long workshop will feature a number of great speakers and more details will be available in next month's newsletter. We wish all Patriots a happy and safe summer!

Missoula Refugee Update thru July 20, 2018

Thirty-three refugees from the Democratic Republic of Congo were resettled in Missoula between June 21st and July 20th. This is a significant increase in the rate of resettlement during this calendar year.

The four weeks between June 21st and July 20th were very profitable for the International Rescue Committee office in Missoula: the IRC pocketed the tidy sum of $125,400 for the 33 refugees that they "resettled" in Missoula. Remember these dollars represent the cash the United States government gives to the IRC, a net of $3800 per refugee after the direct expenses for resettlement are covered. It's interesting to note that they keep their overhead quite low as evidenced by the fact that no matter what time of the day or what day of the week I try, I have not been able to get an answer to the many phone calls I have made to the Missoula IRC office. So if the money is not being spent to make the refugees' lives better, and it is not being spent to keep their phones answered by staff, where does the money go? Maybe it is used to pay David Milliband, the IRC CEO, whose annual salary is a whopping $650,000 per year. Your tax dollars at work!

In the past couple of weeks there was an article that was published in several Montana papers giving a highly biased and whitewashed account of the "positive" economic impact made by Missoula's refugees. The article did not enumerate the differences between the positive financial contributions made by refugees prior to 2016 (particularly the Hmong refugees who assimilated quite well) and the significant financial burden represented by recent refugees. Today's refugees are not at all the same as those who came before. And the cost v. benefit analysis fails to distinguish between today and yesterday.

Perspectives: Here and Abroad

In the past month I have had the privilege of spending almost three weeks in Great Britain and then, within days of my return, traveling to Great Falls to attend President Trump's rally. My head is filled with a myriad of impressions and perceptions about what I saw and heard and read in both places.

Let me preface this by saying that my husband and I have been Anglophiles since our first trip to England. Not only do we consider ourselves fortunate to have great friends who are British, but we like their literature, their beautiful countryside, and their culture. I am especially fond of Westminster Abbey and with the exception of this trip, have visited that historical place every time we have been in England. We have seen places as diverse as Stonehenge, the Tower of London, Salisbury Cathedral, Cambridge, the seashores of Penzance and Falmouth, and the museums of Victoria and Albert and Sherlock Holmes. This trip was planned by our friends and included a road trip of over 1000 miles. I'll never complain about the roundabouts in Kalispell again! I would estimate we passed through well over 100 roundabouts on our little jaunt.

The trip was planned to avoid large cities, particularly those with significant Muslim populations. Cities like Manchester and Birmingham and London have morphed significantly in the past several years, with large areas of the cities now being Muslim enclaves in which non-Muslims are clearly unwelcome. There are areas where one could easily imagine being in a Middle Eastern city rather than in Great Britain. Britain, particularly the city of London, has always been a multi-cultural delight. But the delight was in seeing and hearing many cultures at work and at play together with assimilation allowing the sharing of cultures to occur while respecting centuries of British tradition. Now there is a feeling of imposition of an unmistakably foreign culture occupying England.

I anticipate a monumental uprising when the Islamists go after two things that are incredibly important to the Brits: their pubs and their puppies. Dogs are welcome everywhere in England: in many restaurants and pubs, beaches, parks, stores, simply everywhere. Not only are dogs welcome, but many businesses put out bowls of water for thirsty dogs that might be passing by. Muslims have been taught that dogs are unclean and should be avoided. As for the pubs, an iconic symbol in Great Britain, they run up against the rules forbidding the consumption of alcohol by followers of Islam. Unlike other religions which may discourage or even forbid the use of alcohol by followers, the Islamic religion attempts to apply their rules to people outside of the Islamic faith. They have attempted in Great Britain and in the U.S. to close down pubs or bars in cities where there is a significant Muslim population. Dislike of, animosity toward, or protests of dogs and pubs is likely to wake a sleeping giant!

The most important thing that I saw in England was the fact that the current political/cultural climate there is practically identical to the current climate in the U.S. The divisiveness in America that stems from so many sources is mirrored in Great Britain by divisiveness about Brexit. This is identical in tone (hateful), in method (protests or marches over every imaginable slight or action, sometimes financed by globalists like George Soros), and in language (throwing around words such as "racist", "misogynist", "homophobe" etc. when lacking factual argument). In addition, just as in the U.S. where former President Obama and his minions don't hesitate to weigh in on current events and criticize President Trump and the 'Deplorables' who voted for him, former Prime Minister Tony Blair and a number of former MP's are actively speaking out against Brexit and criticizing Theresa May and her cabinet and the citizens who voted in favor of Brexit.

Furthermore, when reading the international newspapers I found similar occurrences in several European countries. Do you really think this is a coincidence? It isn't. This is being planned and orchestrated on a global level that most of us find difficult to believe or even imagine.

Upon my return home I had the opportunity to get a solid dose of patriotism at the Trump rally in Great Falls. Although I enjoyed the President's speech, that wasn't what had the greatest effect upon me. I was thrilled to see that the attendees represented a broad age spectrum, from very young teenagers to very old folks and every age in between. Under stressful conditions (crowded, hot, long lines, chance of not getting in) and almost without exception people were courteous to each other, respectful and polite to elderly and infirm folks, kind and enthusiastic. I was a volunteer and my job was to check in members of the media before handing them off to the Secret Service to be patted down and have their equipment checked. I checked in over 100 people and there were only two who were not courteous and pleasant. I won't name those two but I will say that they represented Montana NPR and you can figure it out.

My perspectives of my time in England and at the Trump rally lead me to believe that although there are forces working to change our world into something unrecognizable, we have a force right here in the United States that can successfully oppose the movement: that force is the combination of patriotic, freedom-loving Americans and the leadership of our President who is working for us by being unpredictable on the world stage and very, very different from his predecessors in that he wants to Drain the Swamp and Make America Great Again!

Teachers and White Supremacy

The National Education Association (NEA) held their annual meeting in Minneapolis and have announced some new resolutions in a report entitled REPORT OF THE 2017–2018 NEA RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE NEA Representative Assembly July 2–5, 2018. The report was shared with Oathkeepers by an employee who is disturbed by what is happening in teachers unions. Try this on for size:

New I. White Supremacy Culture: The National Education Association believes that, in order to achieve racial and social justice, educators must acknowledge the existence of White supremacy culture as a primary root cause of institutional racism, structural racism, and White privilege. Additionally, the Association believes that the norms, standards, and organizational structures manifested in White supremacy culture perpetually exploit and oppress people of color and serve as detriments to racial justice. Further, the invisible racial benefits of White privilege, which are automatically conferred irrespective of wealth, gender, and other factors, severely limit opportunities for people of color and impede full achievement of racial and social justice. Therefore, the Association will actively advocate for social and educational strategies fostering the eradication of institutional racism and White privilege perpetuated by White supremacy culture. (2018)

The NEA has an office in Helena and are part of the effort to change American culture.

Does Big Jon Tester REALLY Represent Montana Values?

To hear Big Jon tell it he is Montana's everyday common man: Gentleman, farmer, organic farmer no less and friend of the people. A peek under the proverbial covers says he might be, well, abusing the truth in those ads we are bombarded with these days. Do you think Montanans want higher taxes? We can't imagine that they want higher taxes and the graph below indicates Big Jon loves higher taxes like the good Democrat that he is. He says he votes with Trump but he didn't on the tax cuts. Do you think Montanan's believe in and support our Constitution? You would hope so and we think the majority do, with the exception of the 'Peoples Republic' of course. Check out the graph from the folks at The New American who track Congress in how they vote on issues regarding our Constitution. Big Jon from Big Sandy supports our Constitution less than 25% of the time. It would seem questionable if he has 'our' best interests at heart. The bottom graph below is from NumbersUSA who track and report members of Congress and how they vote on immigration issues. You would probably agree if your child brought home this report card on Big Jon, they'd be grounded for sure. His current report card is miserable and for the current session of Congress is F-. I know in my house he'd lose his driving privileges. Let's all work to send Big Jon back to Big Sandy in the fall. He's a disgrace to Montana and all America holds dear.

Tidbits from Around the Last Best Place

Helena Mayor Wilmot Collins STILL Making

the Rounds: Comedy Central, Billings, Missoula and Missoula again. Mayor Collins and General Secretary Mayor John Engen recently hosted an event sponsored by the International Rescue Committee (IRC) in Missoula to unveil and a new study. Interestingly, the study was commissioned by the IRC and prepared by an NGO by the name of the New American Economy. The reports says that Montana immigrants earned $119 million dollars last year. According to the report, the increase in Montana's overall population was 1.7% and immigrant population increased 4.3%. The organization New American Economy was founded in 2013 by New York Mayor, Michael Bloomberg and Rupert Murdoch. Its purpose is to influence public opinion and policymakers toward comprehensive immigration reform. "NAE will enable Mayors and CEOs to demonstrate to policymakers the vital role that immigration plays in our economy by publishing studies, conducting polls, convening forums, and sponsoring public education campaigns." No bias here.

Big Jon Update: If you've seen his Ad's you will notice that Big Jon is pulling out his favorites. It's no longer Jersey Greg but Maryland Matt, the Developer with no heart. What is it about the Left and not being born in Montana? They parade new Helena Mayor, Wilmot Collins around like a prize and he's not even from this continent. I'm confident that Greg Gianforte and Matt Rosendale have paid more taxes to the State of Montana since they've been here than Jon Tester and Steve Bullock combined. Vote the blowhard out!

Peoples Republic Update: General Secretary of the Republic, Mayor John Engen, is at it again. He announced the City will sue the Carlisle Group, owners of the water company the city took in an eminent domain lawsuit, because they did not negotiate in good faith. The Mayor and City Council have spent millions and millions of taxpayer money on legal fees alone, just to 'take' a commercial business and turn it into a government enterprise. Missoulians had better wake up, lots of taxes coming your way from the Central Committee of the People Republic.

Polson City Follows Missoula's Lead: Polson is a nice little town, with a growing drug problem, typical of many Montana towns today. But its following a trend around the state of government overreach. Back a couple of years or so the City took over the restaurant at the City golf course. Prior to that it was leased out and privately run. No biggie, right? Not so fast. This year they took over a small concession in Boettcher Park that a local family had ran for years and years. The family pleaded their case before City Council and while no good reason was given, they voted to put the small local enterprise out of business. What is up with our governments putting local businesses out of business? Should one of the city services be 'food service'?

Sit Rep on the Culture Wars on College Campuses

NEWS FROM COLUMBIA

Renowned Columbia University has an internationally recognized student they're probably not too proud of right now. That student is Joel Davis, internationally recognized anti-rape activist who started the group Youth to End Sexual Violence, who is also Chairman of the International Campaign to Stop Rape and Gender Violence. What a resume. He's been featured on TED Talks and has reportedly been nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize. And all at such a young age.

The pedestal Mr. Davis has been sitting on was torn down when the US Justice Department issued him an indictment. Seems Mr. Davis is a pervert. His alleged crimes include sharing "explicit images of infants engaged in sexual activity" and soliciting sexually explicit videos of a 9-year-old girl from an undercover officer. Davis told undercover officers this month that he was sexually interested in children and texted them images including sexual activity between "infants and toddlers" and adults. He also discussed his intention to participate in sexual activity with the 2-year-old daughter of an officer's girlfriend.

Our country has lots its morality. The core is rotting.

QUEER STUDIES

Word coming out of the land of fruits and nuts, California, says that Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo now offers a minor in Queer Studies. The Cal Poly website outlines it by saying that students will "learn how constructions, experiences and expressions of sexuality – including the invention of homo/heterosexuality and ab/normality, intimacy, kinship networks and embodiment – change over time and are lived in relation to interlocking systems of race, ethnicity, religion, class, nation, age, dis/ability and gender."

I don't know about you but it sure makes me want to get those grandkids right off to San Luis Obispo.

To complete the Queer Studies minor, there are both required courses and approved electives for students to take, some of which include: the Social Construction of Whiteness, Sexuality and Gender in African American Communities, Sex, Death, and Human Nature, and Gender and Sexuality in Modern Europe.

Understand ... this is another front in the culture wars on America.

CALL ME WHAT?

People are free to decide who and what they are according to a new policy proposed by the University of Minnesota.

Under the new policy faculty and students would receive discipline. If they refuse to call someone their 'preferred' gender they could be fired or expelled.

I guess if you meet Harry and he wants to be Sally, you'd better listen up or look for a new school.

GENDER BIASED HOT WINGS

Apparently there is a YouTube Show called Hot Ones where they eat varying degrees of 'hot' wings. Seems simple and stupid enough.

Hold it right there. University of Tulsa Professor of Media Studies, Emily J.H. Contois. calls BS. It seems Ms. Contois has studied it and found that it is 'gender biased' towards men. She states that is how hierarchies are built against women.

Another tiny front in the culture wars.

Last Chance Patriots to Host Dinesh D'Souzas Latest Movie

DEATH OF A NATION

ABOUT THE FILM

Not since 1860 have the Democrats so fanatically refused to accept the result of a free election. That year, their target was Lincoln. They smeared him. They went to war to defeat him. In the end, they assassinated him.

Now the target of the Democrats is President Trump and his supporters. The Left calls them racists, white supremacists and fascists. These charges are used to justify driving Trump from office and discrediting the right "by any means necessary."

But which is the party of the slave plantation? Which is the party that invented white supremacy? Which is the party that praised fascist dictators and shaped their genocidal policies and was in turn praised by them?

Moreover, which is the party of racism today? Is fascism now institutionally embodied on the right or on the left?

Through stunning historical recreations and a searching examination of fascism and white supremacy, Death of a Nation cuts through progressive big lies to expose hidden history and explosive truths.

Lincoln united his party and saved America from the Democrats for the first time. Can Trump—and we—come together and save America for the second time?

Thanks to our great supporter and incredible promotor in Great Falls, Garnett Rope and the Cascade County Republicans, the new movie will be shown on Monday, July 30 at 7 PM in the AMC Classic Great Falls 10 Cinema located at 1601 Market Place Drive Great Falls, MT 5940. There is limited seating. Tickets can be obtained at the door or in advance on Eventbrite by clicking the box below.

TICKETS

Please note that thanks to another great supporter of ours, Jerry Molen, Producer of the film, it will be showing in Kalispell in early August but we do not yet have the details.
